Press Release

Wavecrest Networks Limited, headquartered in London UK, to enhance international voice service offerings with an expanded partnership with Odine

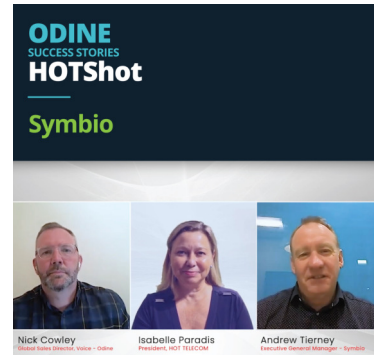

Odine is pleased to announce a new partnership with Wavecrest that will migrate their international voice services to a managed cloud-based solution. The transformation will empower Wavecrest to meet evolving market demands, virtualize their core network and launch converged services.

Odine's Nebula Managed Service Solution will optimize Wavecrest's network, providing improved dynamism, greater control, and an end-to-end management application globally.

Why it's time for international wholesale to embrace virtualization

Getting rid of legacy infrastructure is no longer a choice, but a necessity.

Scalability, adaptability, and efficiency are some of the key qualities they need to take on in a transformation. Virtualization can achieve this – supporting 'as a service' business models that can better accommodate the market's changing demands.
